LightWing Studios Announces AxeGlove™ For PRS Guitars and Fender Basses

Posted by Harmony Central News on Oct 20, 2008 1:00:00 AM

LightWing Studios today announced a product line expansion and immediate availability of their AxeGlove™ Guitar Protection System to include PRS Guitars and Fender Basses.

AxeGlove™ is a complete, two (2) piece system which encompasses BOTH the neck and body of solid body electric guitars and basses is now offered for Gibson SG, Les Paul Standard, Custom, Deluxe & Double Cutaway models, PRS, Fender Stratocaster & Telecaster guitars as well as Precision and Jazz basses. Additionally, the AxeGlove provides a "PickPocket™" guitar pick storage pocket within inches of the players hand. AxeGlove is designed to be used Live or in the Studio and provides unimpeded access to all controls and inputs when utilized.

The custom, form fitting design for each model offers protection against wall hanger & guitar stand finish damage, minimizes belt buckle abrasions and provides overall protection to 90% of the body/neck thru its unique DOUBLE LAYER Cotton Flannel construction when fully deployed. AxeGlove™ also absorbs sweat & moisture thereby offering further finish protection, especially on Nitro Cellulose finishes and is machine washable. AxeGlove™ installation / removal takes but a few minutes; slip on the body and slip on the neck which is secured via three (3) belts across the fingerboard using Velcro pads. All models are offered in four (4) Standard colors; Red, Black, Tie Dye Red and Tie Dye Blue.

"AxeGlove™ is the answer to a 50 year old problem guitar players have had to live with. Whether you spend $300 or $30,000 for your guitar, they have all been exposed to abuse, wear and tear which has devalued your Axe and made its appearance less than appealing. AxeGlove significantly eliminates those worries and at a very minimal investment. We're very happy to now include PRS Guitars and Fender Basses in our product line." said Patrick Pearce, President of LightWing Studios. "We listened to players who told us what they needed. We initially developed these to display our own in-house guitars and for use during sessions. The incredibly positive reaction to the AxeGlove™ by so many guitarists gave us ideas for better prototypes and improvements all along the way. Based upon their feedback, we decided to make them available to all players. AxeGlove™ is truly a player designed product." said Chief Designer Lyuba Pearce. The AxeGlove retails for $39.99 and includes FREE shipping in the USA.
